

River and Trail to Benefit from Volunteer Planting!

What: Planting native trees and shrubs in a 200' buffer along the White River.

When: Saturday, October 21, 2006.

Time: 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Where: 24th St. E. in north Sumner (directions on back)

Why: Last summer, the city of Sumner paved more than half a mile of new trail along the east bank of the White River that will eventually be part of a network that links trails coming from King County with the Foothills Trail and others. Planting of the buffer area began earlier this year, and when completed this fall, will start the process of restoring habitat between the trail and the river in an area formerly used for turf production.

Other: Planting will take place rain or shine, so please come prepared! The site may be muddy or dusty, so volunteers are encouraged to dress appropriately – boots are recommended. Light refreshments and planting tools will be provided, although you are welcome to bring your favorite shovel. Please be advised that there are no restroom facilities on site.
